

LUXSCI FOR RESELLERS & AFFILIATES

Scenario:

As a customer of LuxSci or as an entrepreneur, you may realize the potential benefit for new customers to our services. Whether you're looking for a profit or email for your own clients, you want LuxSci reliability with something extra for you.

Opportunity:

LuxSci provides programs for both resellers and affiliates to get more from LuxSci. With volume discounts, private labeling, and LuxSci support, you can easily provide our services on your own. Affiliates can also get in on the action with our special 10% commission offer.

With our resale and affiliate programs you can:

- Earn a 10% commission for your referrals—for free
- Receive volume discounts
- Have LuxSci support at your fingertips
- Private Label the LuxSci services for your resale customers [optional]

How do I become an affiliate?

In order to obtain your free membership in our affiliate program, just register on our website. It's a quick, one-time process—we even provide all the graphics and HTML for you to use as advertising on your website.

How does commission work?

For the first year of service of each of your referrals, you will receive a 10% commission, paid monthly, on their total LuxSci bill. This payment can be made by check, PayPal, or credit to your own LuxSci account. There is a minimum of $10 as a payment for any given month.

What does LuxSci offer to resellers?

LuxSci offers a volume discount on all email services and licenses. That way, the more people in your account, the wider the profit margin, especially since you get to set your own prices. LuxSci also provides both its own knowledgeable support staff and private support ticketing options for you to manage your clients' technical issues.

What options are there for customization?

Our administrative settings allow you to control all accounts at once or delegate control on a per-account or per-domain basis. You can also integrate our email with your existing website or control features using our Application Programming Interface (API) or our Private Labeling option for overall, in-depth branding.

For more information on reselling or our affiliate program, simply go to our website and select "Reseller/Affiliate" from the 'Pricing' menu at the top of any page.
